pai and Lunalilo streets, on Saturday, November 4, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Alleging non-support, Eugene S.
Hall has filed in circuit court a suit for divorce from Charles B. Hall. The Halls were married in Honolulu in 1911.

Edwin Tomlin, secretary and treasurer of the Associated Cement Company, will come to Hawaii with a party in the near future.

For a needed rest and change of climate Richard Ivers, secretary of C.
Brewer & Co., left for San Francisco Wednesday on the Matson steamer Wilhelmina.

A license has been issued for the marriage of Miss Maude Herbert, who recently arrived from England, and Jacob S. Bailey, a well known Honolulu merchant.

The regular monthly meeting of the Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association will be held at the home

It's Easy to Pay the Model Way

The wisdom of The Model way is becoming clear to more and more people every day.
Men who have been used to paying cash for their clothes are coming to see the economy of being systematic—of paying for their clothes in small instalments instead of big sums irregularly. And at The Model you can get styles and values which are absolutely correct, in addition to cheerful credit.
Purchase delivered on first payment. Alterations free.

BILLBOARD WAR RUMBLES HEARD IN TWO LETTERS

Outdoor Circle and Charles R.
Frazier Exchange Letters
Through Newspapers

In reply to a letter sent by Charles R. Frazier, the advertising man, in which he asked the members of the Outdoor Circle if they are willing to be as tolerant of billboards as of telephone and trolley poles, and are willing to cooperate towards improving the appearance of the billboards and the advertising on them and requesting them also to give their general attitude on the matter, the billboard committee refused to consider any of the suggestions.

Frazier sent the letter to each member as he said he believed that the circle as a whole is not opposed to billboards. "If the campaign of the Outdoor Circle against billboards is continued visiting artists," he said, "it will carry away a poor impression of Honolulu."

The circle's letter, signed by Cherilla L. Lowrey, Harriet P. Thurston, Josephine Campbell, Katherine E.
Murphy, Sadie Caldwell, Alice K.
Campbell, Jennie Ashford and Ida M.
Castle, said in part that there is no comparison between billboards and poles because the latter are a public necessity and can be made inconspicuous, and answer their purpose if not seen at all while the former are simply for the purpose of making money an dare obtrusive as they are of little use if not seen.

In reply to the second question the letter says, "We are not willing to indorse the billboards in any shape.
At its best it is a garish disfigurement of the landscape, inartistic and tends to make the city less beautiful and attractive."

The general attitude of the circle is that Frazier's course is against public interest and for the promotion of personal ends only, while its course is in the public interest and tends to make Honolulu a better and more beautiful place in which to live.

Frazier Replies

In answer to the letter of the committee Charles R. Frazier today sent the following reply:

"Honolulu, T. H., Nov. 2, 1916.
The Executive Committee and the Billboard Committee of the Outdoor Circle.

"Dear Ladies: Your letter of Nov.
1 duly received. I think this is the first letter I have ever had the honor to receive from the Outdoor Circle and am greatly interested in its contents.

"My letter, which yours assumes to answer was, of course, addressed to individual members of the Outdoor Circle and I expect to receive individual replies thereto, uninfluenced by any ideas of the billboard committee. So many replies already have been received by me that I anticipate a very large response. I again assure all members who are fair enough to write to me on this subject that their names will be treated absolutely confidentially.

"I was prompted to write to the individual members of the circle because so many ladies have expressed to me their disapproval of the methods employed by your billboard committee. This especially was the case after the injury done to Mrs. A. B. Ingalls' concert.

"I would like very much to know whether our better-class citizens consider my outdoor advertising business so highly obnoxious that it must needs be boycotted, or uprooted and destroyed like the banana trees, which were destroyed during the yellow fever scare several years ago. I should be greatly chagrined if I found this to be the case, for I have always considered outdoor advertising highly respectable and useful, and have tried to conduct it in a decent manner.

"Now, without accepting your letter as a reply to mine, but because of your courtesy in writing to me on the subject, I am pleased to answer briefly.

"Not Declared 'Nuisance'"

"Billboards in Honolulu have never yet been declared a public nuisance by the public but only by a few people who want to see them eliminated.
Let it be understood, I make no attack upon the poles strewn through the city's thoroughfares; they, like the billboards, have a specific public utility value. At the same time they are for private profit, equally with billboards. I have never been informed that it was wrong to make money so long as it is made honestly.

"As a public utility the billboard's merit stands unquestioned by the general public. It is employed by the United States government in recruiting the army and navy, by American Society for Prevention of Tuberculosis and by political candidates in most parts of the United States who seek election to public office. It played an enviable, virtually indispensable part in Great Britain's recruiting campaign in the present war. So much for its practical value.

"I do not agree that in Honolulu the billboard is a 'garish disfigurement of the landscape,' and assert, moreover, that I always have responded cordially to reasonable objections by individuals or organizations who have not wanted them in certain localities. But I never have received any such requests from the Outdoor Circle. If I had, they certainly would have been treated with courtesy and to the entire satisfaction of all fair-minded ladies in the circle.

"In this connection I might add that the much-talked-of 'Heinz sign' at Wal-kiki was removed, not through threats but as the result of a courteous request from a number of gentlemen constituting the Central Improvement Committee. This committee gave me a unanimous vote of thanks for my "Should you care to investigate, you doubtless will find that your statement, that the Outdoor Circle, through Mr. Robert Shingle, offered me $5000 for my billboard business, is in error. No such offer ever was

LONGING FOR HAWAII

Sometimes as I sit alone In the California haze, I long for the dear old isles And the cheery, sunny days.

Long again for the palm trees Waving softly to and fro, Reaching almost to heaven So slender and high they grow.

Long, long to hear the ocean And the tides upon the shore Of far away Hawaii!
For it calls me ever more.

NEW TELEGRAPH SERVICE TO JAPAN

The Marconi Company will announce its readiness to accept commercial messages for Japan within a few days.

The rates from Honolulu will be considerably lower than now quoted by submarine cable.

To ensure prompt delivery of Marconigrams from Japan it is essential that code addresses be filed with the Marconi Company at once.

Code addresses registered before July 1st, 1914, should be so indicated.
